

Rhetorical Theory and Criticism Statistics and Student Comments

Nicole Joanna Mitchell <njmitchell@edu.uwaterloo.ca>

Mon 2018-08-27 10:48 PM

To: Meghan Riley <meghan.riley@uwaterloo.ca>

Hi Professor,

First of all, I just wanted to say thank you for your kindness, support and clarity during this course. I have taken many online courses in my past years at Waterloo and definitely need to acknowledge all of the things you have done.

Online courses can be difficult when course content is not clear, but you went out of your way and provided us with weekly emails that assisted us in ways to further our understanding. Not only this, but constant guidance with amazing feedback that I can honestly say, I have barely ever received before. Alongside all of this, you provided us with the ability to receive an extension because you are completely understanding that we have other courses and duties in our lives. By doing this, you made me feel valued- you made me feel that you wanted me to learn and strive in the course you were teaching.

Finally- you were there to remind us when a good time to start studying for the exam would be and I can honestly say that I didn't think it was coming up so soon until I read your email.

I just want you to know that I appreciate everything you have done this term and I know that many, many students probably feel the same. I hope you receive many emails like this because you are so, so deserving of them.

This was my last term at Waterloo and I was blessed to be taught by an amazing professor- thank you for everything.

Nicole Mitchell

Course Strengths:

The prof is really good, knowledgeable and understanding. Content is presented well.

Course Weaknesses:

Sometimes there is more content than necessary and not all of it relates to the module.

Improvements to be Made:

Go through content and delete what is not necessary

Course Strengths:

Assignments were helpful in the contribution of my understanding in each module, readings, and content of the week in general.

Course Weaknesses:

If the instructor was able to respond a little sooner and with more clarity.

Improvements to be Made:

Post the final exam outline.

Course Strengths:

the assignments.

Improvements to be Made:

As my last ENGL course in my last semester at Waterloo, I really enjoyed this course, the assignments and the support from the instructor.

Course Strengths:

The assignment structure, the professor, the feedback, the readings and lecture material was all relevant

Course Weaknesses:

None

Improvements to be Made:

Doing an amazing job, one of the best online courses I have ever taken.